Day Three - Enjoy your included Hampton on the House breakfast this morning before departing for home through our beautiful state. We will travel south through Amelia Island and along the Atlantic Coast as well as crossing the St. John's River. We will be passing through communities such as American Beach. American Beach is located on Amelia Island, just north of Jacksonville, Florida between two upscale sentinels -- the Ritz-Carlton Amelia Island and Amelia Island Plantation. Founded in 1935 by Abraham Lincoln Lewis, American Beach was created as a vacation haven for African-Americans, for whom access to other resorts was denied in the days before desegregation. In the early 1930s, A.L. Lewis, Florida's first black millionaire and president of Afro-American Insurance Company in Jacksonville, bought 200 acres of prime Florida beachfront so his employees could enjoy the Florida shore. Continuing south, we'll pass through - Big Talbot Island, Little Talbot Island, then, keep your eyes open for the large Navy ships and freighters in Mayport, then, we continue south through Jacksonville Beach, Ponte Vedra Beach and Vilano Beach. Next, we arrive at St. Augustine where we will have a short driving tour with a rest break at a local point-of-interest.
